ELKS MINSTRELS WAS A GOOD SHOW

A CROWDED HOUSE SAW SHOW LAST NIGHT.

MUSIC NUMBERS POPULAR

Scenery and Costumes Were First Impressive Features—End Men Pulled "Hot Stuff."

Playing last night to a crowded house, the Elks Club Minstrels of 1922, did their part by crowding every moment of the two and a half hours time with ltra-good entertainment of the home talent variety. The reputation of the past Elk Minstrels was fully sustained and even added to by the performance of the "Bills," last night.

As the evening curtain rose the first impressive feature was the scenery of the minstrel act. The drop curtains and scenic effect and entire color scheme was done in the purple and white of the roses. The costumes of the chorus blended into the color scheme with tuxedos and full dress suits of the end men of the same color. The only thing that seemed to be out of harmony was the red and white polka-dot socks of the end men.

The opening chorus of "In the Land of Cotton," got the minstrels off to a good start. All of the musical numbers were well received with encores demanded on practically every one of them. It would be hard to attempt to give the feature numbers of the solos, but judging by the strength of the encores, the most popular were:

"Lovin' Sam," by John C. Stapel; "Nobody Lied," by William Mapel; "Don't Send Me Posies," by Oliver K. Bovard; "Stumbling," by Ed. W. Gray and "Why Should I Cry Over You?" by Anthony Blatter.

"Three o'Clock in the Morning," by Frank Roclofson with a solo dance by Miss Olive Ewing proved one of the most popular numbers of the evening. Soothing songs to break the rag time numbers were: "Where the River Shannon Flows," by Richard Collins; "The Gypsy Trail," by Dennis Collins and "Rosy Cheeks," by Carlos Yehle.

Probably the most popular of the musical numbers was the appearance of the quartet composed of Russell Allan, Floyd Foreman, Earl Miller and Floyd Lunsford. The demands of the audience for encores proved bigger than the time alloted the quartet.

The end men were Edward W. Gray, John C. Stapel, F. C. Miller, William Mapel, O. K. Bovard and F. G. Shoemaker with L. G. Schumacher as interloeuter. Most of the jokes were "hot stuff," and pulled off in good shape. Many of Maryville's business men, "goifists" and good fellows, fell victims of the jokes.

The orchestra under the direction of C. D. Kutschinski deserve special mention for their work. They were in the back ground on the stage, and costumed to harmonize with the chorus.

Albert Butherus, as a "ballet dancer" added considerable "color" to the grand finale at the closing curtain of the minstrel's act.

"Shenandoah" or the late Mexican war, was the title of the second part of the entertainment. As to its type of play, it wasn't named on the program, but a "melo-dramatic farce," would be almost as close as it could be characterized. Puns and play on words rained fast and thick. Three times did General Mixup crawl to the rays of the spotlight in an attempt to utter his dramatic dying words in the limelight. Those who saw this farce last night can appreciate the useless effort to describe it and those who didn't will want to see it tonight.

The cast of characters were: Sergeant Fuller Bull, William Mapel, the Widow, Garland White, General Mixup, Dr. Jessie Miller, Jr., Captain Ivan Awfulitch, J. Louis Kraft, Little Nell, Frank C. Cummins, Corporal Sweet, Earl Miller, and Col. Madura, E. E. Rhodes.

The show will be repeated tonight and the ticket sale started well at 9 o'clock this morning.

COLLEGE BOARD RECEIVES IMPROVEMENT ESTIMATES

Three things that the State Teachers College desires to accomplish in the near future were discussed yesterday at the Board of Regents meeting. Estimates were received on remodeling the old seminary building at the end of First street so it might be converted into a dormitory.

Estimates were also received for remodeling the auditorium. The needs in the present auditorium are for more seating capacity, especially during the summer session, better acoustics and additional exists. Estimates were received to build a balcony in the auditorium, better the acoustics and provide for addition exists.

The problem of building a coal bin at the heating plant was also taken up. At present there is just a small wooden bin to house the coal. The present building is inadequate in size and being of wood, presents an inflamable danger at the plant.

The Board of Regents also discussed the appropriation to be asked for the [illegible] years from the next legislature.

We saw a typographical error in a furnace advertisement in the paper the other day. It made it read "pepless furnaces." It may have been an error but we had furnaces of that kind in our house renting experience.

BEARCATS DEFEAT TARKS YESTERDAY

BY 12 TO 6 SCORE ON LOCAL FIELD

WILSON SCORED TWICE

And Messmer Also Performed In a Stellar Role—Play Westminster Friday

The State Teachers College advanced another notch in the Missouri Intercollegeate Athletic Association race yesterday when they won a hard fought football game from Tarkio College on the local field by a 12 to 6 score. Both of the Maryville touchdowns were made by Lon Wilson, halfback. The first came in the second period on an end run and the second came in the third period when Wilson hit off tackle for a counter. Both times Beck failed to kick goal.

Tarkio scored in the fourth quarter when a forward pass was completed behind the Maryville goal.

The local stars were Wilson and Messmer. Time and again Wilson skirted end or bucked the line for good gains and his tackling was hard and fierce. Messmer played exceptionally well on the defense. Many times he broke through the Tarkio line and nailed the runner for a loss and once especially he made a brilliant open field tackle.

Tarkio's tally came in the last quarter when they forward passed their way to a touchdown. The Tarks started the offensive by the aerial route and completed two thirty-yard passes, followed by one caught by Wilson of Tarkio behind the goal line.

A summary of the last two quarters follows:

Third Quarter

Maryville kicked off. The ball was returned thirty yards on a series of plays. Tarkio punted and Young blocked the kick. The ball bounced high in the air and Allan caught it and ran thirty yards before being downed within eight yards of the Tarkio goal. Foreman hit the line for three yards and on two off tackle plays Wilson carried the ball over. Beck failed to kick goal.

Maryville kicked off and was penalized fifteen yards for tackling the runner out of bounds. Tarkio tried a triple pass which was incomplete. Again they tried it, this time losing five yards. Tarkio punted and Beck signalized for a fair catch. He was tackled and Tarkio was penalized fifteen yards. Miller kicked on side for thirty-five yards. The rest of the quarter found the ball in the center of the field with Tarkio using all kinds of formations in an endeavor to get loose.

Fourth Quarter.

Tarkio completed a long forward pass for 30 yards. A pass behind the goal line was incomplete. A touchback foi Maryville. Miller punted and Tarkio again completed a 30 yard pass. Then

THE FARM BUREAU PLANS ITS WORK

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE COUNTY MET YESTERDAY

MAKE PROGRAM FOR 1923

Plans Include Dairying Promotion, a Home Economics Program, Hog Management Demonstrations

A program of work to be followed by the county agent and members of the agricultural extension service was outlined yesterday by members of the executive committee of the Nodaway County Farm Bureau and representatives of Womens' Clubs in conference with W. H. Baker, of the agricultural extension service. The members of the executive committee present were J. R. Evans, president; T. A. Parrish, V. F. Laughlin, J. N. Alexander, G. T. Logan and Geo. Uimer, Jr. The Highland Home Makers' Club was represented by Mrs. J. C. Chesnut, Mrs. Pat Farrens, and Mrs. Will Burr. The Scudder Home Makers' Culb was represented by Mrs. D. S. Moody, Mrs. M. F. Ripley and Mrs. Albert Carr. Mrs. W. W. Grigsby of Skidmore, informed the committee by telephone of the work which the Neighborly Club of Skidmore would like to have during the coming year.

Program for 1923

The committee is anxious to see better livestock promoted throughout the county and has instructed the county agent to co-operate with breeders' associations and individual breeders in the holding of purebred bull sales and community sales of purebred cattle. The Boys' and Girls' Baby Beef Club was considered one of the most valuable projects the Farm Bureau had yet undertaken, and the county agent is to give special attention to this club and try to get at least fifty members to fatten calves for the local and district baby beef shows. The committee approved the organization of Boys' and Gifls' sow and Litter Clubs at Skidmore, Burlington Junction, Clearmont, Hopkins, Parnell, Ravenwood and Maryville, and instructed the county agent, to cooperate with any other communities in the county where there is sufficient interest to organize such clubs. The committee believes that pork production can be improved by establishing a number of hog management demonstrations on individual farms, the purpose of these demonstrations being to put into practice the methods being used by Illinois farmers to prevent worms and resulting diseases in pigs, the method being the one explained in the government films on Hog Worms, which were shown over the county in September. Improvement in sheep production is to be promoted with the assistance of the sheep specialist from the Agricultural Extension Service, in holding docking, and castrating demonstrations, during at least two days in April.

To Promote Dairying

The committee instructed the county agent to do everything possible to promote the dairy interests in the county, and it was thought this might be the best done through the use of better dairy sires. They instructed the county agent to investigate the possibility of the organization of dairy bull associations in the Ravenwood and Harmony communities. The methods of keeping production records on dairy cows are also to be brought to the attention of farmers who are engaged in dairying.

In crop production, the county agent was instructed to give special attention to alfalfa, by establishing demonstrations to show the value of ground limestone for alfalfa, especially in the east part of the county. The county agent will also locate and advertise local sources of good seed of soy beans, oats, corn and wheat.

Will Fight Hessian Fly

The heavy infestation with Hessian flies on the early sowed experimental wheat plats on the College farm indicates the need for continued efforts to control Hessian flies. The county agent was instructed to secure all possible information about Hessian fly infestation in wheat over the county and to publish the means of controlling the pest at the proper season next year.

Orchard pruning and spraying demonstrations and grape pruning demonstrations are to be made for all the individuals in the county requesting such service. Also the improved methods of controlling melon beetles are to be made public and demonstra-

MEN WORKING ON STREET CROSSINGS AROUND TOWN

Rounding Corner of Seventh and Mulberry Streets—Filling In Crossings

Mayor Robinson has several gangs of men out working on the streets of Maryville. The corner at Seventh and Mulberry streets is being rounded off and already several jobs of grading have been finished.

On several streets where there is a great deal of traffic there has been filling in between the crossings and the pavements in order that the crossings will be on the same level with the streets and so that vehicles crossing them will not sustain a bump in the crossing.

Jobs like this will prevail for some time because there are a number of bad crossings and streets in the city.

ERNEST WRAY APPOINTED

Mr. Hull Says Personal Affairs Were Needing His Attention—Wray to Jeff. City Today

Editor Fred Hull resigned yesterday as a member of the constitutional convention for the first senatorial district. His resignation was accepted by Governor Hyde. To fill the vacancy the governor appointed Ernest Wray of Maryville.

Mr. Wray left for Jefferson City this afternoon to attend the convention. He will probably be appointed to the same committees Mr. Hull was a member. Mr. Wray was the Republican candidate for Representative from this county at the recent election, being defeated by William Job by only three votes. He has been very active in the farm bureau work and has given a number of speeches over the state for this organization.

Mr. Hull said today his resignation was caused by the fact that his personal affairs were needing his attention. He stated the regret that it was necessary to take this action and that he would have been glad to have served until the work of the convention was completed.

The convention is expected to take an adjournment about January 1 to meet again after the session of the legislature. It is thought the document will be ready to submit to the people next fall.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—The Missouri Constitutional Convention, which convened May 15, 1922, to draw up a new state constitution, has completed the biggest part of its task, but will not be able, it is believed, to conclude its work this year. Many members are of the opinion the convention should recess when the Christmas holidays arrive until after the adjournment of the Legislature next spring, when the convention can reconvene to put the finishing touches to its work and submit the proposed new constitution to the voters for their approval.

Much of the task which confronted the constitution makers has been completed and all the work of the convention has progressed to a point which is easily two-thirds completed.

Many important provisions of the proposed new constitution have been approved first by the committee of the whole, which includes all members sitting as a committee, and then by the convention itself. These have been submitted to a Committee on Phraseology and Arrangements which will correct the verbiage, arrange the subject matter in proper sequence, then resubmit it to the convention. Since no changes can be made in the meaning or intention of any section by that committee, those parts of the new constitution should be speedily ratified when resubmitted.

Measures Completed.

That part of the convention's work completed includes the creation of a budget system, reorganization of the executive department of state government, safeguarding of elections against fraud by facilitating civil and criminal investigations, prevention of the abuse of the referendum and initiative provisions of the state constitution, raising the per diem of members of the Legislature and limiting the expenses of its two branches making it optional with political parties whether they nominate their candidates by convention or pri-

EDUCATION TRAINS FOR CITIZENSHIP

SAYS SUPT. ZIEGLER IN LAST NIGHT'S TALK.

PREPARES FOR LIVING

Subject at C. of C. Luncheon was, "Challenge of School"—U. S. Health Man Speaks.

"Education is training for citizenship; citizenship is active, efficient and constructive work in community life."

Such was the definition and purpose of education as given by Superintendent L. E. Ziegler in his talk on, "The Challenge of the School," before the Chamber of Commerce last night. Mr. Ziegler said in part:

"The teacher is the biggest capital producer in the community because he makes literates from illiterates. The teachers biggest problem is to insure progress in the class, the members of which widely vary in physical development and mental ability."

"Educators used to fit the students to the subject matter, but the modern idea is to fit the subject matter to the students. We have four groups of students at the High School, the agricultural, the vocational home economics, the commercial and the students taking academic work. We now assign lessons by the subject matter instead of by the page as has been done in the past."

"Crime is fundamentally an educational problems and it can never be successfully dealt with until realized as such.

"I would say that the challenge of the school is its opportunity to prepare students for the business of living. This must be done by seeing that they have a well rounded body, a good physique and a sound intellect."

Preceding Mr. Ziegler's talk two well received vocal solos were given by Luther A. Richman of the Conservatory of Music, accompanied by Thos. H. Annett of the Conservatory.

Following Mr. Ziegler, M. W. Ricker of the United States Public Health Service, who will address the assembly at the College today, spoke briefly on his work. Mr. Ricker has had notable success in the filming of educational moving pictures and gained his first success in this field at the West Des Moines High School. C. E. Partch of the College faculty here was associated with Mr. Ricker during his work in Des Moines. Ricker especially complimented Nodaway County for the good "raw material" that the schools have here because of the noticeable absence of any physical or mental defects in the children.

MARYVILLE DELEGATES ATTEND CHAUTAUQUA MEETING

Harry C. Todd and Dick E. Hotchkin have returned from Des Moines where they have been attending a chautauqua meeting upon the invitation of Keith Vawter of the Redpath-Vawter Company. Representatives from each of the ninety-eight towns that had seven-day chautauquas of the Redpath-Vawter program, were invited to this meeting at the Fort Des Moines Hotel.

There were two primary purposes of this meeting. The first was to show results of last year's work and figures made public at the meeting showed that only six of the ninety-eight, seven day towns made expenses last year and Maryville was one of the six.

The second purpose was to discuss and make suggestions for this year's talent. A large chart, having on it proposed talent, was placed before the delegates and a vote was taken to get the opinion of those present upon talent for this year. So far two numbers have been definitely signed up, those being Thomas E. Green, a Red Cross worker in the Near East and Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan.

The one day meeting was closed with a banquet at the Fort Des Moines Hotel and an interesting souvenir containing every chautauqua program of the Redpath-Vawter people since 1904 was given to the delegates.

Mr. Hotchkin returned Saturday morning and Mr. Todd, who was accompanied by his wife returned last night by the way of Kansas City.

M. H. S.-CAMERON GAME TO BE AT ST. JOSEPH FRIDAY

Arrangements Completed This Afternoon to Play Semi-final Game at St. Joseph Association Park

The big game of the season, that of Maryville High School against the strong Cameron aggregation will be held at the Association Park at St. Joseph, Friday.

The Cameron team will meet Maryville on practically an even basis in this game, as their feature, forward passing will offset the difference in weight.

Coach H. Frank Lawrence predicts that the game will be the hardest battle that the Maryville team has ever had. He is giving the boys a hard week's training in preparation of the big event.

Should Maryville win this game they will be matched in the championship contest with the winners of other semi-final game Friday.

The Liberty High School is playing the Excelsior Springs team this afternoon at Association Park in Kansas City. Special interurban cars had been provided to take rooters from both schools to this contest which will decide which team goes into the semi-final games.

CONCESSIONS TO BE MADE BY ALLIES AT LAUSANNE

Lausanne, Switzerland, Nov. 21—The second session of the near east conference opened today with the allies prepared to make consessions concerning the freedom of the Turkish Straits, and to secure lasting peace in the Balkans.

A suggestion was made for the appointment of a commission to deal with the freedom of the straits. The opinion seems prevalent that Turkish merchant ships and men-of-war should be allowed freedom of the straits in times of peace, but in event of war, for the straits to be closed to their warships.

The United States will be offered a place on the commission for control of the states if America will join the body.

HARDING PRESENTS HIS SUBSIDY BILL

SPEAKS TODAY AT JOINT CONGRESS SESSION

REALIZES OPPOSITION

President Begins Talking at 12:35 P. M.—It Will Save $25 Million Annually He Says

Washington, D. C. Nov. 21—Frankly recognizing at the outset the formidable opposition to the ship building program, President Harding went in person before Congress at their joint session and presented by sheer logic, a patriotic appeal to the lawmakers, the urgent need for the passage of the ship subsidy bill without further delay.

The President indulged in little oratory but said it was the patriotic duty of congress to provide for a strong merchant marine and that foreign merchants were in perfect accord to the opposition of the bill.

Shortly before reaching the Capital to begin his adress, the House committee favorably reported the bill, clearing the way for legislation.

The President began talking at 12:35 P. M. For the most part he laid before the legislators a cold dollars and cents argument. He told Congress that the American fleet is now costing the taxpayers 50 million dollars annually and that the ships are rottening at the wharf and that in the ultimate end the fleet will represent a total loss.

"Provisions of the new bill," declared the President, "Will reduce by half the cost of the ships, or in other words will save 25 million dollars a year. The ships that are rottening at anchor will carry American goods to the four corners of the world and will ultimately be self-supporting and finally develop into a great merchant marine."

"I am not asking for your authority to place new and additional burden on the treasury," he continued, "I am asking for legislation proposed to diminish the burden they are already bearing. When your executive believes that the annual expenditures of 50 million dollars could be reduced by half, he would be politically unworthy of public trust if he did not commend and insistently urge its passage."

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

THE PROGRESS OF INVENTION

Thomas A. Edison visited the General Electric laboratories the other day and was reported to have been astonished at some of the new marvels which were shown him. When such a great creative mind as his is amazed at the developments of scientific progress it can well be believed that the day of technical advance has only just begun.

Many people say that they do not see how the next 50 years could accomplish as many wonders as the last fifty have shown. They point to air flight, the telephone, radio communication, the automobile, etc., and ask how 50 years more could possibly equal such a record.

But the new arrivals are coming out all the time. They should greatly improve living conditions for the mass of the people. This country should deal generously with its institutions for scientific research, so that the best talent of the nation can be secured in this task of applying hidden forces to the service of man.

THE PRODUCTION OF "BUNK"

Although there is a demand that political methods become more like those of good business, yet the politicians and the business men use very different systems. When business men want to sell an article or promote some project, they are anxious to make exact statements of fact. They realize that if their claims are shown to be exaggerated, their hopes of making a deal are handicapped to that extent.

The politicians of all parties, however, have a tendency to make exaggerated statements. Many of them attack their opponents with savage denunciation that is far removed from the spirit that enables people to succeed in the business field.

The reason the public swallows a good deal of political "bunk" is that people do not inform themselves thoroughly on political matters. Those who follow carefully the doings of state and federal leaders and lawmakers can detect "hot air" when they hear it.

THE BETTER SPEECH MOVEMENT

An effort called the "Better Speech Movement" it being promoted by associations of teachers and woman's clubs. It works through the schools largely, to induce young people to avoid bad grammar and the general use of slang.

It is often observed that people may look as if they lacked refinement and education, yet when you hear them talk, they show the results of training. Where that tendency is noted, it is the result of the community's good schools, which have done a great deal to help young people succeed in life when they give them command of straight English speech.

While a lot of the common slang is coarse and debasing, many slang phrases win their way because they put an idea into concise and graphic form. It is well to avoid the extended use of slang but not to try to make the people use only dictionary words. Too much stiffness is not desirable either.

Every standing committee has made its report. Every report includes some important phase of the proposed new constitution. Several have been approved by the Committee of the Whole and by the convention as stated. The others have been read and are ready for discussion and amendment before the Committee of the Whole.

The big problems which have been considered by the standing committees but which must yet be considered by the Committee of the Whole and the convention are:

Big Problems Considered

1. Revision of the state judicial system and the simplification of court procedure to speed up litigation and to prevent miscarriage of justice through delays or technicalities.

2. Overhauling the state's system of taxation, which has been the subject of study and criticism by at least three voluntary tax commissions appointed by Missouri Governors and which has been the football of politics for over a generation.

3. Providing for the organization and government of counties and cities; authorizing cities to frame their own charters and prescribing the measure of local self government to which the cities of the various classes shall be entitled.

4. Revision of the state's educational system in conformity with modern educational thought.

Committees have exhaustively considered each of those propositions and have submitted reports which are now pending for discussion and necessary amendments before the Committee of the Whole. Each may be passed on and be submitted to the Committee on Phraseology before adjournment for the Christmas holidays.

Home Economics Program

The requests for definite service which have been received from over the county, constitute the basis for the program of home economics work, to be given for women's clubs. Requests for work of this nature have been received from the Burr Oak Club west of Skidmore, the Neighborly Club in Skidmore, the Parnell Willing Workers Club, the Herron Home Makers', the Myrtle Tree, Highland, Lasher, Rockford, White Cloud, Scudder and Pickering clubs, and the women in the Conception community. The services of specialists from the Home Economics Department of the University will be requested for two day demonstrations of the renovation of household furnishings and refinishing of furniture for the Parnell and Highland clubs; millinery school for Conception and Skidmore communities and a garment making school at Maryville. Other service will be asked for upon requests from womens' clubs.

To Continue Poultry Work

Poultry demonstration flocks and certified breeding work is to be continued with as many individuals as want to carry on the work. And service will be given to individuals on the control of poultry diseases. The County Agent was also instructed to cooperate with the Poultry Association in the promotion of the Boys' and Girl's Poultry Club.

The meeting was held at the office of the Nodaway County Farm Bureau and county agent, Roy A. Kinnaird.

Maryville kicked off. Dick Kirby knocked out. Brought to again and stayed in the game. Tarkio opened up on a series of passes which were effective. Wilson intercepted a Tarkio pass for five yards. The ball was passed and punted for the remainder of the quarter. Tarkio tried almost nothing but passes and Maryville played more of a defensive game.

Friday at Fulton the Bearcats close their season with a game with the Westminster Blue Jays. SEN. NORRIS DECLARES HE HAS QUIT THE G. O. P

"Not a Speck of Partisanship Left in Me," Nebraskan Announces

Senator Norris of Nebraska is out of the republican party. This announcement he made today in an interview with the Omaha World-Herald correspondent at Washington.

"There isn't a speck of partisanship left in me," Senator Norris said. "I am no longer a republican.

"I believe that the independent voter is the salvation of the country," Senator Norris went on, "and I think that in the last election for the first time in history he has come into his own and has realized the power he possesses."

Senator Norris is against all parties. He intimated that he will also oppose the formation of a third party if that is attempted following the progressive powwow, which is being called to meet in Washington December 1 by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin. La Follette has indicated that steps will be taken toward the organization of such a third party looking toward the election in 1924.

"Such a party would become corrupt as are both old parties," Senator Norris said. "No matter how pure might be its motives when it was launched, it would soon feel its power and it would necessarily become a machine organization. That means it would surely become corrupt."

The students marched to the College in a body and were filmed while marching by Ralph Marcell.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT STARTS AT COLLEGE TODAY

The basketball tournament between the different societies at the State Teachers College started this afternoon when the teams of the Eurekan and Philomathean Literary Societies clashed on the College court. Following this game the Excelsior Literary Society will meet the Y. M. C. A.

Tomorrow afternoon the College Commerce Club will play a team from the faculty and the winners of today's games will play. Then following these two games the two winners will play.

All football players are barred from this tournament and consequently some of the better players of the school will not get into action.

Dope has it that either the Commerce Club or the Eurekans will win the tourney. The former has in its line-up Egley, Bloomfield and Brown, who are all good players, while the Eurekans have Dixon, Hahn and Gibson.

However, the question of Egley's eligibility is questioned as he is not taking work in the Commerce Department. If he is ruled out it will leave a big hole in the "Stenographer's" line-up.

The tournament is being run off by E. W. Atkinson, head of the Commerce Department.

TURKEYS ARE SCARCE IN THIS COUNTY

There are not as many turkeys on the market for Thanksgiving dinners this year as heretofore, according to poultry dealers in Maryville. It was said that the supply is short owing to the fact that many of the turkeys are not fat enough to market at this time, but that they will be placed on the market for Christmas dinners. The price is a little higher than a year ago.

George S. Sipper, Cattle Trader, Says He Passed De Russey's Lane On Night of Murder

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 21—A demand "In the name of justice," that Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall, widow of the rector of St. Johns Church, who with his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, were murdered on September 14, be given an opportunity to testify before the grand jury was made today by a petition presented having the signatures of a long list of friends and relatives of Mrs. Hall.

The grand jury, continuing in session for the second day was confronted with a new witness, whose testimony may prove of profound significance in weighing the ultimate value of the testimony of Mrs. Jane Gibson, star eyewitness for the state.

The new witness is George S. Sippel, a cattle trader of Middlesbush, N. J. His connection came to light yesterday in a letter to his wife, in which he admitted that his evidence would shatter some of the points of Mrs. Gibson.

Sippel said that he felt it his duty to appear and refute certain parts of Mrs. Gibson's testimony, which he says is untrue. On the night of the murder he says he was passing De Russey's Lane and that the headlights of his car illuminated a part of the lane.

He refused to make any further statement.

Have you ever noticed that women button their coats on the opposite side from men? We asked our tailor what the big reason was. "Don't know" he replied "unless it is just to be contrary."

There are a lot of fellows who try to exert a pull when what they should do is push.

She is the first woman to ever take the oath of office on the Senate floor.

ANNIE MAC SWINEY GROWS WEAKER AT PRISON GATE

Today Is Fifth Day of Hunger Strike Because Permission Was Refused To See Mary MacSwiney

Dublin, Nov. 21—Annie MacSwiney, who went on a hunger strike five days ago in protest against the warden of Mount Joy prison refusing her permission to see her sister, Mary, collapsed here today from starvation and exhaustion, and fell in her tracks.

She had complained of great pains in her head, which she said was getting worse, and her friends bandaged her head and moistened it with water. Inside the prison, Mary MacSwiney entered her seventeenth day of hunger strike.

Little groups of people remained with Annie during the night, bathing her head and praying. Groups of strangers gathered to look on the pathetic scene. Some wept as she would fling herself down on her muddy mattress.

ELLIS BRADLEY CASE IN COURT TOMORROW

Selection of Jury at That Time—Minerva Powers Arraigned in Court

The neses of the state against Ellis Bradley and Claud Watson on a charge of rape scheduled for trial today were continued until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock when the selection of the jury will commence. Claud Watson filed late this afternoon a motion for severance which was granted by the court so that the Bradley case will be tried by itself.

A panel of forty-five men have been summoned to appear. Out of this number a jury of twelve will be selected. It will take most of the day tomorrow to make the challenges to the panel and it is likely the case will start to trial Thursday noon.

Both Bradley and Watson are from Elmo. A number of Elmo people are witnesses in the case. Both boys are under age and instead of being tried in circuit court will be in juvenile court.

James O'Brien pleaded guilty to gaming before Judge Dawson this afternoon. He was fined $25 and on payment of costs a stay of execution was granted. O'Brien was indicted by the recent grand jury for shooting dice.

Minerva Powers of Conception Junction was arraigned in court this afternoon on a charge of criminal slander. She pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until next term. The information issued by William K. Richardson charges that Mrs. Powers made remarks concerning his daughter, Nellie Richardson.

"LITTLE MOTHER" OF PRISON TELLS OF EXPERIENCES

Maude Ballington Booth Speaks Last Night In First Number of Lyceum Course

Maud Ballington Booth, the "Little Mother" of the prisons spoke to a fair sized house last night at the First Methodist Church when the opening number of the Lyceum course of the Oxford Class was given. The attendance was small because of several counter attractions. In her opening remarks, Mrs. Booth said that she spoke in Maryville a number of years ago from the Chautauqua platform, and several in the audience last night remembered that occasion. "Prisons should be a stepping stone to something better," said Mrs. Booth in her story of the Volunteer Prison League which she founded. She believes that imprisonment should tend toward reformation. National prison reforms have been promoted and a number of rural properties in widely separated states, temporary homes for discharged prisoners, have been acquired and equipped.

To these, friendless prisoners go immediately when discharged, remaining until they or the League find employment. These homes have been named "Hope Halls," and the homes established for the helpless and blameless wives and children of prisoners, "Rainbow Houses." Many thousands of ex-convicts from Hope Hall have become useful and respected citizens and only about five per cent have returned to crime. Mrs. Booth is a strong advocate of a living wage for prisoners. She has been engaged in the prison reform work for twenty-seven years and today is recognized as one of the world's leading exponents of sone prison reform.

Preceding the lecture, Mrs. O. L. Curl, accompanied on the piano by Miss Lucile Airy, sang "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes."

The second number of the course will be Everett Kemp, monologist, on the evening of December 18.

BURGLARS BREAK IN PRICE GROCERY STORE LAST NIGHT

Cigars, Cigarettes and About $15 Taken—An Attempt Was Made to Blow Safe

Unknown burglars entered the Price Grocery on North Main street last night and made away with about 300 cigars, a few cartoons of cigarettes and about $12 or $15 in money which had been left in the cash register. Marks on the safe showed that an unsuccessful attempt had been made to break into it.

Mr. Price says that entrance was gained through the basement by breaking a window light. It happened before 10 o'clock because shortly after that time the night watchman, F. A. McKee notified Mr. Price that the window had been broken and the store was investigated and the above articles found missing.

Charles E. Walker in his campaign for re-election as presiding judge of the county court from the North district spent $22.60.
